Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from On Aphasia: Being a Contribution to the Subject of the Dissolution of Speech From Cerebral Disease In the following pages is collected, with a few alterations and additions, a series of papers that appeared during the past year in the Medical Chronicle. My main object in writing these papers was to record several interesting and instructive cases of aphasia which had come under my own observation, but inasmuch as in none of my cases did the symptoms observed come to the test of a post-mortem examination, I could not enter profitably, either on an analysis of the clinical phenomena, or on an interpretation of them in terms of structure, without availing myself largely of the labours of others. Although previous observations on aphasia will be found described here with tolerable fulness, yet, at the same time, the work does not pretend to be an exhaustive monograph, nor is the subject treated in a strictly systematic manner. In dealing with the opinions of others, I have endeavoured to separate what I conceive to be the true...
