When both factors are taken into consideration, the Warrensburg school stands first in the ranking. It has the best writing from the standpoint of quality combined with fair speed. Cape Girardeau and Columbia come next, with Springfield, Maryville, and Kirksville following in the order named. 4 Reading Tests a. The Kansas Silent Reading Tests. The purpose of this test is to determine the ability of pupils to get meaning from the printed page. It consists of a series of exercises, in the form of short paragraphs, in which the child is given certain directions to follow or in which he is required to solve a simple problem. Each exercise is so arranged that the response of the child is either right or wrong. A folder containing a set of these exercises is given to each child in the class, and all begin to work at a signal from the examiner. The score is determined by the number of exercises which are completed in five minutes, the weighting of each exercise in the final score having been calculated by the author of the tests. The median scores obtained in this test are recorded in the following table. The slight decrease in the scores of the sixth grade is due to the fact that two sets of exercises...
