RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 40 pages. OCLC Number: (OCoLC)50094860 Subject: High speed ground transportation -- Law and legislation -- United States. Excerpt: . . . stration within the United States Department of Transportation (DOT) with an estimated 70, 000 new Federal employees at a cost of 6. 8 billion in FY 2002 alone, including 50, 000 airport security personnel. The Federal government has also provided significant subsidies to support public transit, including local bus, commuter rail, light rail, and trolley bus transportation. Since 1970, the Federal Transit Administration (FTA) has received 106 billion in Federal funding. Transit ridership has risen dramatically in recent years, rising to 9. 5 billion commuter trips in calendar year 2001. A recent report by the United States General Accounting Office (GAO) stated that Although the level of New Starts funding is higher than it has ever been, the demand for these resources is also extremely high. TEA-21 identified over 190 projects nationwide as eligible to compete for New Starts funding. (Report GAO-02- 0603) In effect, Federal transportation policies have promoted the development of highways, aviation, and transit systems, while significantly less attention has been paid to the...
